

The Office for Teaching and Learning and Text and Academic Authors present

Tara Gray serves as an associate professor of criminal justice and director of the Teaching Academy at New Mexico State University. She has used these steps to publish three books, including Publish and Flourish: Become a Prolific Scholar. She has presented workshops to more than 3,000 scholars in twenty states, and in Guatemala, Mexico, Canada, and Thailand. As a workshop presenter, Dr. Gray is "spirited, informative and entertaining—she's anything but gray!"

Publish & Flourish
Quadruple your productivity in just 15-30 minutes a day

The myth persists that prolific scholars are born not made, but research suggests otherwise. Much is known about the steps you can take to become prolific:

- Write daily for 15-30 minutes
- Organize around key sentences
- Solicit the right feedback from the right colleagues
- Make effective use of feedback

What participants say:

"I tried these steps on a paper I had been trying to put together for five years. Four weeks later the paper is out for review."

"Internalizing these steps has caused my productivity to quadruple."
